

Don't Take it Personally

- Postal Service employees may accept reduced membership or other fees offered to all federal government employees if the only restriction relates to professional qualifications.

Accepting a discount offered to all federal government employees rather than only to you as a postal employee maintains the Postal Service's reputation that our employees can't be bribed to obtain a business advantage.

And that's smart business.

Contact the Ethics Office (ethics.help@usps.gov) for guidance on gifts.