

Make a Record

- Notify your supervisor or manager of the accident or injury.
- Be sure to investigate, document, and report all employee on-the-job accidents and injuries properly and timely.
- Seek advice from Human Resources if you don't know how.

Documentation is critical to identifying issues and processing compensation claims properly and cost effectively.

And that's smart business.