

It's Just Business, Nothing Personal

- Never connect personal or non-Postal Service devices to any postal computer, equipment or network through a wired or wireless connection.
- Don't store, process or transmit any postal information on personal and non-Postal Service devices at any time.

Safeguarding the postal network to protect postal information resources prevents losses that could impact our operations and finances.

And that's smart business.