

Time Flies

- In order to maintain effective mail operations, the Postal Service must stay on schedule.
- Employees returning timely from lunches and breaks keep operations running smoothly and efficiently.
- Proper mealtime clock rings reduces clock-ring errors and promotes effective operations.

Returning timely from lunch and breaks keeps the Postal Service running on schedule.

And that's smart business.

-Submitted anonymously by an employee