Make It Work

Staff, budgets and resources might be limited.

> ➢ Assess, track and communicate restricted resources in short- and long-term increments.
> ➢ Communicate and partner with other program stakeholders — groups in other divisions might share past or current resources — to eliminate process replication.

Stakeholders sharing a common business goal can often trade off and share work, pooling their efforts.

And that's smart business!