

Pay Your Taxes

- As an employee of the Postal Service, you have a legal, ethical, and fiduciary obligation to obey the tax laws of our country.
- As a citizen and a public servant obligated to uphold the public trust, you're ethically mandated to complete and file all required tax forms for federal, state and, where applicable, local taxes.
- Taxes must be filed timely and accurately. It erodes public confidence when postal employees are viewed as not paying their taxes.

Maintaining the public's trust is crucial to our success.

And it's smart business.
