

Teleworking is Working

- All work rules apply.
- If you're teleworking, failure to work a full day or working a second job violates policy and could lead to discipline including termination of your postal employment.

It's about ensuring productivity while working at home.

And that's smart business.

Learn more about the teleworking policies at Management Instruction # EL-3120-2015-2.