

Keep Gripes to Yourself

- Don't speak negatively about the Postal Service in front of a customer.
- It's not professional.

Delivering a great customer experience keeps customers shipping and mailing with the Postal Service, which builds revenue and preserves jobs.

And that's smart business.