

Texting While Driving

- Don't.
- Nearly half of drivers under the age of 35 with cell phones report sending or reading text messages at the wheel. Drivers are three times more likely to crash if they text while they drive.
- There are enough distractions on the road without adding texting to the list.
- Texting while driving is an accident waiting to happen.
- Forty-six states have laws banning text messaging while driving

Keeping our eyes on the road and free from unnecessary distractions is smart driving and it will reduce accidents and injuries.

And that's smart business.
