

Your SMART
SAFETY Moment

Hazard Checks

Some accidents happen for a reason.

While an employee may not be at fault, it could very well be a failure of a procedure or an uninspected piece of equipment. Creating an environment where everyone is invested in safety is the best way to prevent workplace hazards.

By making equipment and vehicle checks a part of the daily routine and conducting regular inspections of the work area for often-overlooked hazards, you can help reduce potential accidents and injuries to employees.

And that's smart safety!

For additional information or guidance, contact your safety office.