

Think Safety

Now that's a good thought.

Thinking reduces accidents and injuries. About 90 percent of all accidents can be attributed to unsafe acts on the part of the worker, and failure to think before acting is the cause of practically all of those accidents.

It takes discipline. Many accidents can be averted by thinking carefully about consequences before acting.

And that's smart safety!

For additional information or guidance, contact your safety office.