

Summer Heat

Know the signs of heatstroke.

Working outdoors in summer heat can be more than uncomfortable, it can be dangerous. Every year, thousands of employees around the country suffer from serious heat-related illnesses. If not addressed, heat exhaustion can become heatstroke, which can be deadly.

Help employees avoid heatstroke by providing training on working in the summer heat.

And that's smart safety!

For additional information or guidance, contact your safety office.