

Personal Protective Equipment

Make safety a good fit.

Employees need to be trained on the use of personal protective equipment. When is it necessary? What kind is necessary? There are proper ways to put it on, adjust and wear it, and take it off. There also are limitations to this equipment. Employees also need to know about proper care, maintenance, useful life and disposal.

Maintain documentation in the Learning Management System(LMS) in MyHR and include, at minimum, the employee's name, date of training and training subject.

And that's smart safety!

For additional information or guidance, contact your safety office.