

Training Programs

Stay up-to-date on safety.

Motor vehicle, powered industrial truck, asbestos, hazardous materials and other refresher training programs must be provided and updated as needed according to OSHA regulations and USPS policies. Use these programs to correct improper work practices before accidents happen and to improve work practices after an accident.

Refresher training requirements are included in the Written Program Training Curriculum located on the MyHR page on the Blue intranet.

And that's smart safety!

For additional information or guidance, contact your safety office.